Risk and reward profile

The alternative investment fund is categorized as 5. The indicator illustrates the typical correlation between the risk and your potential return of the investment. The categorization is determined by the fluctuations in the alternative investment fund's net asset value over the past five years, representative data or the maximum risk class.

Significant historical volatility equals high risk and low volatility equals lower risk. Please note that the alternative investment fund's categorization is not constant and the categorization may change over time. Historical performance data is not necessarily a reliable indicator of the future risk profile. The risk indicator is purely a mathematical calculation and it does not take devaluations, political intervention and sudden fluctuations in interest rates and currencies into account. Risk class 1 is not a risk-free investment.

The principal risks of the fund are equity risk, interest rate risk, credit risk, leverage risk, derivative risk and exchange rate risk. As the fund will invest its assets in both the fixed income and equity markets, the changes in the market conditions and interest rates will affect the return of the fund. When investing in the volatility of a certain asset, the fund may have exposure towards the future volatility of that asset. A long position in volatility implies that if the future volatility of a certain asset increases/decreases, then the fund will make a gain/loss, and vice-versa for a short position.
